RECORDS OF REV. MR. ILLING.

RECORDS OF ST. PETER'S LUTHERAN CHURCH, MIDDLETOWN, PA.

I.

[Recently, through the efforts of an old friend, were secured the "Parish Records" of the Rev. Traugott Frederick Illing, who was pastor at Middletown from 1773 to 1788. But little can be learned of the Rev. Mr. Illing. He was, what was called in those days a German Calvinist, a follower of the Swiss Reformer Zwingli, of which country he was a native. Reaching England prior to the War for Independence he received ordination at the hands of the Lord Bishop of London, and was sent to Pennsylvania by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts. As early as 1765, Mr. John Cox, a merchant of Philadelphia, by deed granted a lot to the society named for a church at Eatherton, a town laid out by him, and which subsequently went by the name of Coxestown. To this mission, to the Juniata and to several points in the Cumberland Valley was he first sent. Dr. Peters represented him as "a very worthy man," and from all that we can learn of him he deserved that character. Reaching Middletown, one of his objective points, the Church of St. Peter's being vacant, he received first a call from the English speaking residents of the neighborhood for his gospel ministrations in English, followed by that of the Lutheran congregation in German. Mr. Illing preached at various points besides Middletown and Eatherton, as we learn from the records herewith given, at Mount Joy, Pennsboro' (long known as the Stone Church near Shiremanstown), Lishburn, Maytown, Bangor, or Caeruarvon (which included the Church of England communicants residing in the southeastern part of Lancaster county, the southwestern of Berks, and the northeastern of Chester.) The "calls" first given contain the names of the more prominent settlers, Scotch Irish, or English speaking, and German.

Many of the descendants of these people became eminent in the county in which they were natives, and others did honor in the halls of legislation. At the end of these parish records we propose giving an account of some of those connected with the various churches, especially that of Middletown. The lists contain the names of nearly all the early settlers of this ancient and oldest town in Dauphin county on the Swatara and the surrounding country, and not only comprised those who were followers of Luther and Zwingli, but also those of John Knox. It may also prove that Col. Burd and his Scotch Irish neighbors were not always worshippers at Old Paxtang Meeting House, and that from the year 1773, as will be seen by the first subscription list, the Scotch Irish of this vicinity attended Divine service at old St. Peter's church, and which accounts for his burial in that town in the Presbyterian graveyard instead of at the Paxtang Meeting House graveyard, where subsequently from his death, which occurred only a few years after Rev. Mr. Illing's removal from the pastorate of St. Peter's church, Mr. Burd's Scotch Irish neighbors, the Crouches, Jordans, Colliers and others buried at Paxtang. No doubt with the death of Col. Burd, by emigration, by the growth of the German membership at St. Peter's, the few remaining Presbyterians at Middletown and vicinity, who were left at the beginning of the present century, became communicants at Old Paxtang. Of the Rev. Mr. Illing's subsequent career we know but little. In 1779, in a letter from the Rev. William Barton to the secretary of the society in London, after alluding to the Rev. Mr. Frazer, of Amwell, he says:

"The second is Mr. F. Illing, a German, who, about 7 or 8 years ago, received ordination from the Lord Bishop of London, and came to America without any appointment or allowance. He settled in the back parts of Pennsylvania, where he became very useful, by faithfully discharging the duties of his office, both in English and Dutch, to a large number of people, whose contributions altogether, perhaps, never amounted to £30 sterling per annum, and for 2 years past, would not have been sufficient to keep him alive had he not received relief from private beneficence. It would not become me to point out what should be done for them. I only beg leave to represent them as good men, zealously attached to the Church of England, and the interest of Great Britain, and as being now in distress."

In 1784, when the Episcopal clergy in and adjacent to Philadelphia met to consider the formation of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, which assembled at the residence of the Rev. Dr. White, among its minutes we find this reference:

It appearing that as the Rev. Mr. Illing was the minister of the Episcopal church at Casnavon and Pequea, the clergy wrote that gentleman inviting him to the meeting together with delegates from his vestries.

Among the proceedings there is no further reference to this eminently faithful minister of the Gospel. As it may not be out of place in this publication of the record spoken of, we have concluded to give a brief history of the church in question, for which we are indebted to Dr. Egle's History of Dauphin County.

Historical Sketch of St. Peter's Church.

St. Peter's church of Middletown, is the oldest Lutheran church in the county. The lot numbered 135, upon which the first church edifice stood, including the graveyard in the rear, was purchased from George Fisher, and Hannah, his wife, as appears from a deed bearing date Sept. 18, 1764, to Peter Wolz, George Frey and Deterick Schob, all of Lower Paxtang township, Lancaster county, Province of Pennsylvania. The purchase money was seven shillings and six pence, with the additional rent of one grain of wheat every year, to be delivered annually on the 1st day of May. The deed was acknowledged before Justice John Allison, and attested by Joseph Greenwood and Henry Renick. It is written on parchment, and is yet in a good state of preservation. It is recorded at Lancaster in Deed Book M, page 395, by Edward Shippen, recorder; and bears the old Provincial seal of Lancaster county. In the same year a petition was sent to John Penn, then Lieutenant-Governor of the Province, praying for authority for erecting a church, and also for the privilege of collecting funds for the same purpose. Whereupon privilege was granted by license, dated Sept. 28, 1764, to Christian Roth and David Ettele* to raise by subscription twelve hundred pounds in the space of three years. This document bears the autograph of John Penn, and is countersigned by Joseph Shippen, his secretary. There are no papers to show how much of this money was raised. It appears from the terms of the license, dated Sept. 28, 1764, granting the above privilege, that the members were then very poor, and that many were driven from their homes by the hostile Indians. Middletown then contained but few houses, and a great part of Dauphin and Lancaster counties was then a wilderness. The forests were peopled by Indians, and the settlers could not go outside their homes unarmed with any degree of safety. Whenever the people went to the store, mill, or even the church, they armed themselves. They would stack their arms inside the church, and station one person at the door as sentinel to warn the others of approaching danger.

The church edifice was built in 1767. The corner-stone was laid by Justice (Col.) James Burd, in the presence of Revs. Theophilus Engeland, N. Harnell, Conrad Bucher, and the church wardens and elders, John Christian Roth, John Metzgar, George Phillip Shasg, Gottlieb David Ettele and Jacob King, together with the building committee, which consisted of George Frey, Frederick Zebernlick and Conrad Wolfley. There was placed in the corner-stone a German Bible, printed at Halle, in 1763; the shorter Catechism of Martin Luther, printed in Philadelphia in 1764; three wafers; a half-pint bottle of wine, and some money in Pennsylvania currency. The lot upon which the lecture-room stood was transferred by the executors of George Frey and Jacob King, by a deed bearing date Oct. 7, 1807, to the trustees of the church, viz: John Metzgar, Phillip Ettele, John Blattenberger, Jacob Wolfley, Christian Eshenauer and Marks Snyder. On March 10, 1807, application was made by the congregation for a charter of incorporation. On the 21st of the same month, Governor Thomas McKean authorized Timothy Matlack, master of the rolls, to issue the charter prayed for by the petitioners, who were Ludwig Wolfley, Valentine Weyrick, Martin Hemperly, Nicholas Shuer, George Shalkey, Frederick Zebernlick, George Schneegans, Christian Spayd, George Lauman, James Metzgar, Jacob Snyder, John Smuller, John Croll, John Heppich, John Blattenberger, jr., Christian Laurentz, David Ettele, George Schuler, Matthias Wolf. In 1813 the steeple was built. For this purpose twelve hundred and eleven dollars and thirty-five cents were subscribed by one hundred and ninety three different persons, whose names are all on record, and among whom are the ancestors of many of the prominent families of the town. The first floor of the church was of brick, and in 1830 the present floor was laid. In 1835 the lecture room was built, and in 1861 an addition was made to accommodate the increasing number of Sunday school scholars. In 1844 the second roof was put on the church, and in 1850 its interior was remodeled. At this time the pulpit was erected on the north side, between the two large windows and about midway between the floor and the ceiling, and was reached by a narrow flight of steps. There were two entrances—one on the south side, which, on the remodeling of the edifice, was closed. The building was remodeled while Rev. Dr. Baum had charge of the congregation, and the work was done by Maj. Rehner. In 1855 and 1856 the parsonage was built. This old stone church is now used only at stated times, mostly at funerals of aged persons who wish the funeral services to be held in its sacred walls, an elegant new church edifice having been completed on another lot and dedicated in 1879. Its pastors have been: 1757-73 Rev. Theophilus Engeland; 1773-88, Rev. Traugott F. Illing; 1788-93, Rev. J. Kurtz; 1793-95, Rev. P. Pentz; 1795-1803, Rev. H. Miller; 1803-12, Rev. F. C. Scheaffer; 1812-15, Rev. George Lochman, D. D.; 1815-30 Rev. A. H. Lochman, D. D.; 1830-34, Rev. J. Van Hoeff; 1834-37, Rev. P. Saline; 1837-44, Rev. S. D. Finckel, D. D.; 1844-47, Rev. J. Vochbaugh; 1847-48, Rev. L. Gerhart; 1848-53, Rev. W. M. Baum, D. D.; 1853-56, Rev. Benjamin Sadler; 1856-65, Rev. C. J. Ehrehart; 1865-72, Rev. Peter Rahy, followed by Rev. John Finkhner and Rev. Mr. Holloway. On Sept. 4, 1867, the church celebrated its centennial anniversary, at which were present many distinguished clergymen of the Lutheran and other denominations and persons prominent in the State. At this centennial anniversary George Smuller sent one hundred grains of choice selected wheat to Hon. Robert J. Fisher, of York, the oldest of the legal heirs and representatives of George Fisher, who laid out the town, and of whom the church lot was purchased, as full satisfaction of one clause in the original deed requiring a rental of one grain of wheat to be paid annually. The wheat was contained in a silk bag worked by Miss Carrie Smuller.

The old church lot is two hundred by fifty feet. When "St. Peter's Kirche" (as it was denominated by a lettered stone still in its front over the door) was dedicated in 1767 the members consisted of sixty six old and sixty-three young persons. It was built of red sandstone, was two stories in height, and had a gallery on the east, south and west sides, the pulpit occupying the north side. There was a second entrance fronting on High street, which was reached through the yard in front and staircase leading from each door to the gallery, meeting at the southeast corner. The windows were low, with quite small panes of glass. The bricks in the floor were nine inches square. The pews were narrow, with high, straight backs. When the house was finally warmed, it was done by two large stoves capable of taking in a vast amount of fuel, consisting of ordinary cordwood four feet in length. The pulpit was small and supported by a post eight or ten feet high, and reached by a narrow stairway. Over it was a sounding board. A pipe-organ at one time occupied a portion of one side of the gallery. In August, 1793, the congregation secured the adjoining lot, No. 134, of Jacob Gross and wife, who made a conveyance thereof to George Frey and Jacob King for the consideration of three pounds in hand and a yearly rent of one grain of wheat to be paid annually on May 1st. By mistake the deed was made to Frey and King individually, but when they died their trustees and executors—John Landis, Charles Fisher, William Grabb and John Cassel for Frey's estate, and Jacob Snyder and Daniel Erlisman for King's—conveyed it to the trustees of the church. In 1826, Jane Hannegan [Flannagan] sold lot No. 133, 134 and 135. When the brick floor was replaced by a wooden one, in 1830, the straight back pews gave way to others of a more comfortable character, and a new pulpit was erected, beneath which was an alcove or recess into which the pastor could retire and leave his wrappings before entering the sanctuary. It had steps at either side, and a semi-circular railing hung with velvet inclosed it. The reading desk was also covered with velvet. The alterations were superintended by Jacob Heppich. In the remodeling of 1850 the whole inside woodwork—pews, gallery and all—was removed. The windows, which were formerly in two tiers, were made into one, and the doorway facing High street was converted into a window. The pulpit was erected at the west end, and the galleries extended around the other three sides. A vestibule was made, from which inclosed stairways led to the gallery and shut off the cold from the auditorium. A parsonage was erected on High street, near the old church, in 1855. In 1872 the congregation purchased the lots on Union street, on which its second and beautiful edifice was built and dedicated in 1879.

Call of the German Inhabitants.

MIDDLETOWN, Feb. 10, 1773.

After Rev. Traugott F. Illing, a traveling clergyman, came to Juniata and other places, he preached for us in English and German, because we were without a minister at this time, and therefore we made an effort that he should also serve us, and he promised to serve us every three weeks in case our church would be satisfied therewith, and he should be successful in getting other charges. For that reason we are securing the names of trustees and elders and deacons of our church and the voluntary subscriptions towards his support:

Since I, Traugott Frederick Illing, have been appointed (as preacher for Juniata, Estherton & Pennsborough), by His Eminence, Richard Jerriek, Lord Bishop of London, I have been also authorized & ordained (according to its desire), to preach the word of God and administer the holy sacraments to the congregation here in Middletown. Considering my aforesaid appointment, I will be able to preach but once in 2 weeks, viz: one Sunday and one week day in 4 weeks, aggregating 26 times yearly. If I am to serve the congregation, according to the above conditions I would like the members to undersign their names and subscriptions. For the apostle says Cor. 9:13-14. "Do ye not know that they who sacrifice, eat of the sacrifice? and they who serve well the altar, partake thereof?" Fourteen. "Even hath the Lord commanded that they who preach the gospel shall subsist thereof."

MIDDLETOWN, Oct. 18, 1774.

In the name of Jesus:

Whereas, the time is approaching, it is deemed proper to call an assembly of all members and church councillors of this congregation who are pleased with our Rev. Magister Illing, for the purpose of resubscribing for his third year (1775) among us; and also to induce him to stay on with us, because he has, as we can with a satisfied conscience testify, served his pastoral calling solicitously & faithfully; and, furthermore, has conducted his clerical vocation with the propriety looked for, of a servant of Jesus, and thorough Evangelical preacher; through whose words our souls find consolation. We have no reason, whatever, to find the least fault with his teachings, or his habits, but do feel, that in the event of his leaving our midst, that the blessing would also depart from our souls and our homes. Likewise does Rev. Illing show a particular love for us, therein, that for our asking he has determined to double his services for us; that instead of preaching one Sunday in 4 weeks, he will deliver a sermon every two weeks, which we regard with much honor & great thanks, and in consideration of which, we will give our mite for his maintenance, with this wish, that beloved God, the donor of all good things, may provide for that, which our limited means cause us to be lacking in. May God give to & crown our Rev. Illing, as his (God's) servant, with health, faculty & pastoral endeavor, and preserve him for the word's & honor's sake, as a capable medium, until old age. Yes, we eternally thank Thee, Lord, for Thou canst make well and we will hope in Thy name, For Thy saints find pleasure therein. Amen.

The Middletown Subscriptions, 1776

WHEREAS, by the grace of God another year has ended, & our Rev. Traugott Illing, who already for 3 years, has by us, reputably conducted the Lord's calling, it should be decided if he is to be henceforth our preacher and spiritual minister for the year 1776. Therefore, it is required on part of the Church Council, that each member of the honorable congregation of Middletown, be asked to lay bare his opinion, as to our future relations toward the reverend gentleman; and how much each would be pleased to give towards his annual salary, if he continue to render his ministerial duties as heretofore, in the past year, namely: to hold religious services once in 14 days. Hoping that the merciful Father in Heaven may prompt us to give willingly, through our love for God, that which is intended for his servants, in return for which gifts we will in time and spirit be richly rewarded. We subscribe agreeable with the above conditions as follows:

The Middletown Subscriptions for 1777.

MIDDLETOWN, NEW YEAR'S DAY 1777.

Now that another year has ended coincidentally with the expiration of our Rev. Traugott F. Illing's term, it would be pertinent for the Church Council and members of the Evangelical congregation to inquire of the Rev. Traugott F. Illing if he will henceforth serve us in his ministerial capacity, as he has done in the past 4 years, for the consideration of voluntary subscriptions. If he be willing to continue in the highly important office expounding the pure, unpoluted Word of God forcibly, which, without any doubt, the Lord will give one who is sincere the power to do, the Lord will bless the little which our limited means allow us to subscribe for his support that he may not be wanting for anything good. [Following this petition are the names of only twenty-three of the subscribers with no new names excepting the names of David Dutt and Anna Maria B...er.]

The Maytown Subscriptions—1777-8.

Subscriptions in Maytown, Lancaster county, Pa., Nov. 24, 1777, and 1778. [The absence in the following list of any Scotch-Irish or English names is accounted for—the close proximity of this appointment to old Donegal Presbyterian church.]

Biographical Notes.—I.

[The biographical notes herewith given are mostly of the German residents of Middletown and vicinity who signed the first call to the Rev. Mr. Illing. In most instances the descendants reside in some portion of the county of Dauphin, although many are scattered over various States of the Union.]

GEORGE FREY.

George Frey, or George Everhard, as it should properly appear, was born in the year 1732, in Germany. It is stated, but upon what authority we know not, that attracted, when a young man, to this country, he came to Pennsylvania, locating at Middletown. Here he found employment with George Fisher, the founder of the town, in whose employ he continued several years, when, by the frugality and industry characteristic of his race, he saved some money. His ambition, however, was beyond the labor usual to the farm in a new country, that he concluded to invest his savings in merchandise necessary and saleable amongst the Indians and the settlers on the frontiers. With his bundle well stocked, George Eberhard started upon his journey up the Susquehanna. When in the vicinity of Fort Hunter, which was located at the Boas Farm, at the mouth of the Fishing Creek, the soldiers garrisoned there arrested him, presuming him a runaway redemptioner, but George, in his mother tongue, said earnestly, "Ich bin Frey, ich bin Frey," in order to vindicate himself and be able to proceed on his journey. He succeeded in convincing the soldiers that he was free, and going with them to their rendezvous. He became quite a favorite, while ever after he was known as Frey, which they had learned from his first reply to them, and hence the changing of his name. In course of time he opened a small store in Middletown, subsequently operated a large flouring mill on the Swatara, and was a man of much enterprise. He died in 1806 and, although married, was childless. He devised his estate to the founding of an orphan asylum, the Emmaus Institute of Middletown.

FREDERICK SCHOTT.

Frederick Schott was settled in Derry township prior to the war of the Revolution. He was a devout member of St. Peter's church. He died in April, 1786. He left a large family. Many of his descendants reside in Seneca county, New York, his sons, Frederick and Andrew, having removed thither in 1802.

James Young. His children were John, m. Lydia Shelley, of Shelly's Island, and had among other children a daughter Anna, who became the wife of Dr. Low. Augustus, went to Kentucky. Elisha, m. Sophia Lafy (?). Rebecca, m. Dr. Mercer Brown, long a prominent citizen of the "Lower End." Elizabeth, m., first, John Spikeman, m., secondly, William King, and had a son Christian, whose daughter Mary m. Jacob Benner, who died a few years ago in Middletown, Pa., at the age of 90 years; m., thirdly, John Snyder. Catharine. In the First Lutheran graveyard on the S. W. corner of High and Pine streets, is buried Elizabeth Wolfley, wife of Ludwig, b. Sept. 18, 1721; d. Feb. 27, 1804. They were the parents of Conrad Wolfley.

FREDERICK ZEBBERNICK.

More than one hundred years ago Mr. Zebbernicks kept an inn or ordinary at Middletown, which was popularly known far and wide as "Zebbernicks." He was one of the building committee of St. Peter's church.

CHRISTIAN ROTH.

Mr. Roth was one of the leading citizens of Middletown, and in the year 1764 he, in connection with David Ettle, was licensed to receive and secure subscriptions for the erection of St. Peter's church, and was one of the elders of the church.

JACOB AND CHRISTIAN KOENIG.

Jacob Koenig, or King as now, was b. August 28, 1741, and d. March 23, 1806; his wife Maria Magdalena b. Nov. 7, 1746; d. Feb. 31, 1809. Christian King who was b. Jan. 1, 1744, and d. (David Toot in his day was a prominent citizen in Middletown and vicinity.) Jacob King and his brother, Christian, were the ancestors of the Kings yet residing in Middletown. They also had a sister, Esther, who became the wife of George Lauman.

LUDWIG HEMPERLY.

Ludwig Hemperly born about the year 1732; died in 1790; his wife, Mary, b. July 11, 1734; d. February 19, 1780; they had among other children Michael, Martin, Elizabeth and John. town, where he followed the trade of stone-mason and farming; he died October 17, 1882. He married Susannah Parthemore and they had eight children.

GOTTLIEB DAVID ETTLE.

Of him little is known excepting that he was an early settler in Middletown and the head of the family bearing that surname, of whom a number continue to reside in Middletown. He was zealous in the cause of old St. Peter's church, and one of the two authorized by license to secure subscriptions and collect funds for the erection of the church. It is said of him that on his collecting tour he walked to and from Philadelphia. When he died or where buried we know not, but certainly the worshippers of St. Peter's at an early day neglected their duty when, after his death, they did not erect over his grave a suitable stone to mark his resting place, for he deserved it. He and his wife are undoubtedly buried in the Lutheran grave yard on Pine street. Of their children we have:

John Philip, b. 1755; d. 1820; his wife, Mary, b. 1755, d. 1839; David, b. 1761, d. 1821, and his wife, Mary Magdalena, b. 1763, d. 1829.

There are residing in the borough a number of the descendants of this family.

Biographical Notes—II.

JOHN BACKENSTOW.

For a number of years we have endeavored to trace his descendants, but have been unsuccessful. He was a devoted follower of Zwingle, and in the deed given by George Frey, May 22d, 1770, for the use of the German Reformed church one of the trustees was Mr. Backenstow. He was a saddler by trade and so mentioned in the deed. The name is no strange one on Dauphin county's assessment rolls from the organization of the county till now.

GEORGE LAUMAN.

Mr. Lauman's name was probably Ludwig George Lauman. He was b. August 26, 1743, and d. June 26, 1809. Henry Schaffner came to America about the middle of the eighteenth century from Bessel, in Germany, where he was bound to a Mr. Hains in order to satisfy his expenses in crossing the ocean. Henry LaRue was a sergeant in Captain Joseph Sherer's company in the war of the Revolution.

ULRICH HYPSCHER.

Ulrich Hubicher or Hypscher, an early immigrant to America, coming from the Palatine, settled in Derry township, now Dauphin county. The proprietaries of Pennsylvania warranted to him October 26, 1750, fifty acres of land in said township. It has been a strong desire of the writer to trace his record since the only child known was Ann Eve Hyscher, who married Philip Parthemore. At the "Sand Hill" Lutheran church, near Hummelstown, is an old communion set which is still in use, on the tankard of it being engraved "U. Hyscher" and "W. Poh, 1758." On the platter are the initials "U. P." and "W. P.," but there is no inscription on the cup. The whole is of English pewter with the stamp of the crown thereon.

CHRISTIAN DEMMY.

All that is known of Christian Demmy is that he had a son John who resided on the road leading from Middletown to Hummelstown by the way of "Fidler's Elbow," in a small hamlet known as "Snitztown."

JACOB EARLY.

Jacob Early b. October 23, 1759, in Donegal township, Lancaster county; d. March 29, 1806, in what is now Highspire and buried in the Reformed burial ground. He was a son of Jacob Early. At the time of his death he was the keeper of the Cross Keys inn, which as an inn has long since gone the way of all the hostleries which were so necessary for the weary traveler, but still does duty as a dwelling. It is located on the east side of the turnpike as you enter Highspire from Middletown being the oldest house in the town. He married probably Catherine Musser who succeeded her husband in the proprietorship of the inn. October 10, 1807, the widow and his brothers and sisters deeded the estate which consisted of 14½ acres and 19 perches to Conrad Alleman who was the grandfather of Henry Clay Alleman. Conrad Alleman and wife Mary conveyed this same tract December 23, 1813, to Barents and Dochterman who laid it out in lots and called the new town Highspire.

Mr. Kop resided in the vicinity of the "Round Top," in Londonderry township, and was a communicant in the Reformed Church. Some of his descendants are buried in the Reformed burial place.

PETER PHANKUCKEN.

Peter Phankucken, or Pancake, as now written, was assessed for 140 acres of land in Paxtang township as early as the year 1770 and was the ancestor of those residing in this county at the present.

ABRAHAM GROSS.

His father, George Gross, was an early settler, of whom his tombstone says, he "had eleven children with three wives." Abraham was probably the eldest. He was a man of prominence in the early days of Middletown, and no doubt removed either to the West or South at the close of the Revolution.

Mr. Brenner had a son Peter, b. March 6, 1776; d. May 9, 1852; m. Catharine Blever, b. Sept. 11, 1770; d. August 3, 1847. Some of the descendants still reside in Dauphin county.

He was born in 1729 and died in 1785. Recently his grandson had his remains removed from the first burial place in the old Lutheran graveyard, where they laid 105 years, to the graveyard adjoining St. Peter's church. He emigrated from Germany to America and on his voyage across the Atlantic he lost his wife. He married a second time Christina Ettele, b. July 21, 1752; d. BURIAL PLACE OF REV. MR. ILLING.

[When the records of the Rev. Mr. Illing, which have now been concluded, were ready for printing, and a sketch prepared of that most excellent divine, it was not known where he died or was buried. After some correspondence with the Rev. Samuel McElwee, of Morgantown, Rector of Bangor church, in Caernarvon, although the minutes of that parish gave but little regarding him, a search in the grave yard attached to the church revealed the fact that he was there buried. The tombstone inscription is here given, with other memoranda. By referring to the early series of Notes and Queries we find that the Rev. Mr. Illing married at Middletown, Elizabeth LaRue, but we have not learned when she died, or whether they left any children.]

[The following minute is all that can be gathered from the Parish records]:

At a meeting of the congregation of Bangor Church, on Monday, the 24th of March, 1788: Present: The Rev. Frederick Illing: * * * It is also agreed by the vestry, that the church wardens who have served in Bangor Church since the R-v. Mr. Frederick Illing has supplied, they shall, as soon as possible, collect up their arrearages for the time they were church wardens, either money or notes, to be paid in a short time; but if any persons refuse to pay their arrearages in money or notes, then the said church wardens are to proceed and sue them according to law, and make report of their proceedings to said vestry at the next meeting.

[Inscription in Bangor church yard.]
In Memory of the REV'D T. G. F. ILLING, who departed this life

the 11th Day of July, 1800,
in the 71st year of his Age.
He was a tender and affectionate husband, a true and faithful Minister of the Gospel, and a friend to all mankind.

Why do we mourn departing friends,
Or shake at death's alarms?
'Tis but the voice that Jesus sends
To call them to His arms.

Why should we tremble to convey
My body to the tomb?
There the dear flesh of Jesus lay,
And left a sweet perfume.

Thence He arose, ascending high,
And showed our feet the way;
Up to the Lord His saints shall fly
At the great rising day.
